Meeting Demands
Removal of Judge
In Sacco Appeal

A Congressional investigation of the part taken by the Department of Justice and the removal of Judge Webster Thayer were the demands put forward last night at an enthusiastic mass meeting in Madison Square Garden, called to protest the alleged persecution of Bartolomeo Vanzetti and Niccolò Sacco.

Judge Taylor has refused to grant a new trial to the two workmen, now under sentence of death in Massachusetts.

More than 10,000 men and women crowded into the Garden last night in response to a call sent out by the Sacco-Vanzetti Emergency Committee of New York.
 Prominent speakers reviewed the case of the two men and the plight in which they now find themselves.

"The most sinister and tragic aspect of this affair," said Norman Thomas, "is that there are people in the United States, particularly in Massachusetts, who feel that regardless of the guilt or innocence of Vanzetti and Sacco, the 'majesty of the law' must be upheld.

"Justice" a Crime

"In a country where rich criminals notoriously escape, where political corruptionists like Fall and Daugherty go untouched by justice, it emphasizes Chief Justice Taft's contention that the administration of criminal justice is not only a disgrace, but may of itself be a crime."

Other speakers included William Z. Foster, Judge Jacob Panken, Arthur Garfield Hays, Pietro Allegra, Richard Brazier and others.
 Miss Elizabeth Gurley Flynn presided.

Resolutions demanding a government inquiry and removal of Judge Thayer were passed unanimously amid enthusiasm.

Pig Woman Rushed
On Cot to the Trial

lease setting forth she was leaving the institution of her own volition and against the wishes of its officials. Mrs. Gibson signed the document, thus relieving the hospital and medical men of all responsibilities.

The star witness spent a comfortable night. She was awake several hours before the stretcher bearers entered her room. Although thrilled at the important role she is to play, she was calm and confident that she would come through the ordeal unruffled and without suffering physical harm.

The confidence of Mrs. Gibson, however, was not shared by those accompanying her. Just after leaving Plainfield, the ambulance came to a stop and Dr. Snyder directed Capt. Walsh to get some seltzer.
 This was procured and the procession continued.

Two other stops were made for the purpose of airing the ambulance. All doors were opened for a few minutes.

CUBA MAY RECALL ENVOYS TO URUGUAY, ARGENTINA

HAVANA, Nov. 18 (By U. P.).—

Cuban ministers to Uruguay and Argentina may be recalled because they failed to report to the foreign office the publication in Montevideo and Buenos Aires of an interview with Senor Guani, Uruguayan delegate to the league of nations, in which he was alleged to have said Cuba was not an independent state.

2 SHOT ROBBING CAR

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 18 (By U. P.).—Surprised by a policeman while stripping a stolen automobile in North Providence, two young men were shot and seriously wounded early today. A third youth escaped.

John Dos Passos Pleads
For Sacco and Vanzetti

The case of Bartolomeo Vanzetti and Nicola Sacco, Italian workers under sentence of death in Massachusetts, has aroused world-wide interest, and whipped up a veritable storm of protest against execution of the two men.

Vanzetti and Sacco were arrested in 1920 during government raids after they had been active in a proposed meeting to protest against the fate of a fellow worker killed by a fall from a thirteenth story window in the New York office of the Department of Justice.

Nicola Sacco

B. Vanzetti

Several days later they were charged with the killing of two guards during a shoe factory hold-up at South Braintree, Mass. They were convicted and, after being denied a new trial, the matter was taken to the Massachusetts Supreme Court, where it is still pending.

Sympathizers of the condemned men point out that Celestino Madeiros, a convicted murderer, has confessed taking part in the South Braintree robbery with a gang of crooks from Providence, R. I., and that Vanzetti and Sacco were not members of the party.
 This confession has been backed up by several affidavits.

The GRAPHIC, anxious to provide its readers with the inside story of this unusual case, engaged John Dos Passos, noted author and playwright, to interview each of the doomed men in his prison cells. His talk with Vanzetti follows. That with Sacco will be published tomorrow.

By JOHN DOS PASSOS

The state prison at Charleston is built like a church. Visitors wait in a chancel before being ushered into the crossing where couples may be seen in conversation on benches.

Of each of these couples one is a convict.

Vanzetti sits on his bench, thickchested and calm. If you didn't know him you could tell he was indifferent. His lips don't tremble when he smiles under his thick mustache. But it is the calm of a man with his back to the wall.
 From time to time he glances over his shoulder to make sure there is nobody creeping up on him.

"Well, what do you think?" we ask each other. The case is something separate, far away, like a prize fight heard over the radio.
 "Pretty bad," says Vanzetti.

Much to Write

"I have to work hard, very hard now. There are many things I want to write, and maybe I have not much time."

He has about three hours a day to read the papers and write letters and articles. The rest of the time he works in a shop making automobile license plates.

"But it is so difficult to write in jail," he goes on. "Before I could work hard nine hours, eleven hours a day, and then sit down and write. It poured out, straight from the heart. But now, word by word. It is so difficult to write in a cell."

Somehow we got talking about the clergy. Both the Catholic and Protestant chaplains had written articles and made public statements against him. It was demor-alizing to the other prisoners to have a convicted murderer escape the chair year after year like this.

"They hate me because I am an atheist," said Vanzetti. "If I went to them and made myself humble and said: 'Father, I am sorry; please give me absolution,' they would help me."

They feel as bitterly toward him as doctors toward a sick man who won't buy their medicine.

"At last I ask to see Father Murphy," continues Vanzetti. "He trembled like a leaf. I ask to see him to say to him: 'What have I done to you that you plot against me that way?' He trembled like a leaf and said nothing, only smooth words.

"If I would be a criminal, he would want to save my soul. Maybe even the cardinal would intercede for me. They hate me because I am not a criminal."

Crime to Be Innocent

In jail, once you are caught in the trapnet of the law, the worst crime of all is to be innocent.

Time was getting short. The hour would soon be up. And what about a compromise? What if, as a result of the change of front of many respectable people in Boston, he should be offered a commuted sentence or pardon?

Since the case of Tom Mooney it's getting fashionable to imprison a man for life if you can't fasten any crime on him except that of being a radical.

"Tell them," said Vanzetti quietly, without a quiver in his voice, "that I shall refuse to apply for a pardon, or commutation or anything. Why should I when I am innocent?"

Sacco's reactions to his present plight will be related by Mr. Dos Passos in tomorrow's GRAPHIC.
